

New Rector Finds Student Enrollment Declining Cornerstone Rites Attract 300

The Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, President of Loyola College, assisted by the Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S.J., (right), and the Rev. Edward S. Hauber, S.J., arrive to bless the chapel cornerstone Sunday.

Vigilance Committee Set To Enforce Frosh Hazing

Hazing will follow the usual procedure for the 187 men in this year's freshman class, according to word received from the Vigilance Committee, the Sophomore group in charge of arrangements.

At orientation ceremonies in the gym last Wednesday, the frosh were addressed by the Rev. Joseph K. Drane, S.J., Dean of Loyola College.

Fr. d'Inville Speaks

Following this was a talk by the Rev. Joseph d'Inville, the student counselor. Representatives of several student clubs explained the function of the extra-curricular activities and urged the freshmen to join these activities.

A second meeting of the Class of 1954 was held yesterday, during which they were taught the school songs and the Alma Mater by the members of the Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Felice S. Iula.

Freshmen are required to obey a set of instructions, paramount among which is the wearing of the pup caps, ties and identification cards.

Dance Ends Hazing

James Garland, president of the sophomore class, has announced that the traditional Welcoming Dance will be held about the third week of October. The dance will be informal.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore rugby game marking the conclusion of hazing will be held on the Friday preceding the dance.

Harry Bullington Reported Missing In Action In Korea

Harry Bullington, Jr., ex '48, has been reported by the Defense Department as missing in action in Korea. He has been missing since July 22.

After leaving college, Bullington enlisted in the army. In 1949 he was sent to Japan where he was stationed until July 14 of this year. His brother, Jame Bullington, is a member of the June '52 class.

Former Rector Gives Address

The newly appointed President of Loyola College the Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S.J., made his first public appearance at the formal blessing of the cornerstone of Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen last Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was attended by approximately 300 friends, students and members of the clergy.

The dedication address was delivered by the Very Rev. Henri J. Wiesel, S.J., superior of Carroll House, Washington, D. C., and former President and former dean of Loyola.

Realizes Dream

"This Chapel of Our Lady of Evergreen," said Fr. Wiesel, "is the realization of a dream, dreamt for many long, long years."

Fr. Murray began the ceremonies by blessing the cornerstone and the Cross of the Chapel. He then returned to the faculty house, preceded by a procession of members of the clergy. The program ended with the celebration of Benediction at the temporary altar erected on the faculty porch.

Benediction Follows

The Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S.J., acted as deacon at Benediction, while the Rev. Edward S. Hauber, S.J., was subdeacon. The Rev. Joseph A. d'Inville was master of ceremonies.

Among the guests were the Right Rev. Harry A. Quinn, the Rev. John S. Martin, the Rev. Lawrence A. Brown, the Rev. Richard C. Mitchell, the Rev. Joseph J. Strauss, the Rev. R. J. Froelich, the Rev. James S. Noyes and the Very Rev. Joseph Bluett, S.J. Others present were Henry P. Irr, William J. Casey Lucien E. D. Gaudreau, Felix Goldsborough and Pierce J. Flanagan, Jr., members of the Lay Advisory Council.

Night School Offers Additional Courses

The Rev. Arthur A. North, S.J., dean of the Loyola College Evening School, has announced the addition of new courses to the night school curriculum.

A course in Welfare, which will consist of a study of juvenile delinquency, will be conducted by Bernard M. McDermott, director of the juvenile probation division of the Circuit Court of Baltimore. This is the only such course offered Baltimore.

The other will be the Katenkamp course, a study on the theory of the junior college. It will be conducted by Dr. Chester H. Katenkamp, president of the Baltimore Junior College.

Math Offered Scientists

Pre-Physics and Chemistry majors are now offered a preparatory mathematics course, according to the Registrar. Donald M. Slager, of the Physics Department, is conducting the course in calculus.

Very Rev. T. J. Murray, S.J.

Former Teacher Back As Rector

The Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S.J., named to succeed the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., as President of Loyola, is a former professor of English literature at Evergreen. Father Murray taught here in 1925.

In 1936 he was made dean of the Fordham Business School and remained there until 1941 when he was named professor of Religion at Georgetown. There, he was appointed assistant dean and later served as acting regent of the Georgetown School of Foreign Service.

Father Murray spent his scholastic at Holy Cross College, Mass., and then went to Ona, Spain to complete his theology.

After teaching English at Loyola for a period of four years, he went to the Philippine Islands, and during his stay there established a new high school at Zamboanga City. There, he also became pastor of the Cathedral, and in the absence of the bishop was acting ecclesiastical governor for the diocese.

He is also director of the Eastern Association of College Deans and Advisors of men.

Paper Changes Staff And Format

THE GREYHOUND will appear bi-weekly throughout the school year in a new format, under the new staff appointed at the end of last term. The back page will be devoted to sports news of first priority, and sports copy will be run inside for two more pages.

Editorials will appear on page five of the usual eight page issue, and the first four pages will be news, features and pictures. Regular features not appearing in this issue because of space limitations will be carried beginning Oct. 20.

The staff is now headed by Eugene P. Corrigan, Jr., editor. Howard J. France and Thomas J. Garrity are associate editors and Eugene Conroy is sports editor. John A. Lutz is business manager, and Norman Karolenko is advertising manager.

There are fifty-five staff members, comprising nine percent of the student body.

Records Denote Drop Of 26% In Registration

A new President is directing affairs as Loyola begins the year, and a new dean is handling the academic administration. The Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S.J., has been named to succeed the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., as president of Loyola.

Evergreen, as many other colleges, has suffered a drop in enrollment for the coming year. Total registration figures for the day school are 652, of which 187 are freshmen.

Enrollment Drops 26 Percent

Last June's record 248 graduating class and the Korean conflict have contributed to the decline in the registration figures. Loyola dropped approximately 26 percent below last year's 882 enrollment, as compared to 6 percent for the University of Maryland and 12.5 percent for the Johns Hopkins University. Loyola's all-time record is 1,002 students for the year 1948.

Fr. Drane Named Dean

The Rev. Joseph K. Drane, S.J., formerly dean of St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia, has been made Dean of Studies, succeeding the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S.J., who has assumed the post vacated by Father Drane.

The new dean, who was born in Baltimore in 1909, was stationed at Evergreen from 1942 to 1945, when he taught freshman Latin, Greek and English. He was instrumental in inaugurating the Loyola College Evening School, serving as director until July of 1945 when he was sent to St. Joseph's.

Studies In New York

Fr. Drane entered the Society of Jesus at Poughkeepsie, New York, following his graduation from Loyola High School, Baltimore, in 1927. After his ordination in 1940, he made his tertianship at Auriesville, New York. After two years of study there, Fr. Drane came to Evergreen where he remained until 1945.

Fr. Talbot has been transferred to Georgetown University, Washington, to resume his research into the lives of the early American Jesuit martyrs, as well as to serve as co-ordinator of the schools of the university.

Placement Bureau Offers Part Time Employment

Students interested in part time employment are requested to contact the Placement Bureau, now located on the first floor of the Library Building, according to Mr. Henry L. Zerhusen, director.

"It is not too early for Freshmen to secure employment experience, that will help them decide later in the selection of their careers," Mr. Zerhusen says. "It is not too late for Seniors to secure employment experience—an asset of value in permanent employment applications."

Approximately 20 part time positions are now available to Loyola men through the placement office. Consult the bulletin board in the office itself for details.

Alumni Shaping Oyster Roast Arrangements

by Terrence E. Burke, '48

With the Alumni Association's Fall Dance already chalked up as a financial and social success, work on the October 29 Annual Oyster Roast has taken the graduate spotlight.

As an innovation, proceeds from the roast have been earmarked for the Alumni Association's Scholarship Fund. The Sunday event is scheduled for the Gymnasium from 1 to 6 p.m. Musical entertainment, door prizes and games will be provided. The price is $3.00.

J. Joseph Curran, ex '26, is general chairman for the affair. Subcommittee chairmen include Joseph Gessler, Charles Meagher, Jerome Egan and James P. Lazzatti.

PERSONALS:

This has been something of a banner year for J. Joseph Curran, ex '26. In the short space of three months he: became a parent for the fourth time (a boy); saw his eldest daughter enter the convent; was elected to the Democratic State Central Committee; and took on the responsible position of Oyster Roast Chairman.

Recent Alumni nuptials include those of W. Barkley Fritz, '43, on September 10 to the former Nancy Jean Cooper and that of James E. Bowen, '49, on September 9, to Theresa Thiele.

OFFICIAL OPENING—Last Friday marked the official opening of the school year when members of the student body attended the Mass of the Holy Ghost. The service was held in the Cathedral of the Assumption. The Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S.J., new President of Loyola College, was celebrant.

Mass And Breakfast Planned By Sodality

The annual Mass and Communion Breakfast of the Junior and Senior Sodalities will be held on Sunday, October 22. Mass will be celebrated by the Rev. Joseph d'Inville, S.J., in St. Ignatius Church at nine o'clock.

The breakfast will follow immediately at the Stafford Hotel. The Rev. Vincent Beatty, S.J., of the college faculty will speak on his recent pilgrimage to Rome. Father Beatty will show slides of Rome in conjunction with his talk.

Tickets for the affair, which is open to all student, are $1.25 each and may be obtained from any sodalist. Louis Reinhart, prefect of the Junior Sodality, stated, "All Sodalists are urged to attend since this is a most fitting way to begin their year of activity."

News In Brief

John F. Spellacy, Joseph E. Hennigan and Thomas E. Kelly, of the class of '52, attended the Platoon Leaders Class at the Marine Corps School at Quantico, Virginia, during the summer.

* * *

Alfred Bittner, '49, Royce Upton, ex '51, and Charles Dorsey, ex '53, have enlisted in the Air Force. Richard Filgo, Charles LaHatte, and James Gans, of the class of '52 and Raymond Parr, '49, have been called by the Marine Corps Reserve. The Naval Reserve has called Kenneth Grimm, '52. Joseph Moran and Alexander Rohr, of the class of '50, are awaiting call by Naval Air Force after recent enlistment, and Michael Zedalis, '50, has been called by the Army Reserve.

* * *

Mr. Joseph A. Sellinger, S.J., who taught chemistry and German, and was moderator of the Junior Sodality here at Loyola from 1945-48, is now residing at the College Theologique, Rue des Recollets 11, Louvain, Belgium, prior to ordination there in June, 1951.

Varied Clubs On Campus Are Open To Newcomers

Extra-curricular activities play an important role in the life of the balanced college man. At Loyola, many opportunities are presented to the student with talent ranging from music to mathematics. The following is a line-up of the clubs and societies active on campus.

The Junior and Senior Sodalities are the religious organizations at Loyola. It is their purpose to instill a greater devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Prefects are Louis Reinhardt and Eugene Conroy, respectively, with the Rev. Joseph A. d'Inville, S.J., and the Rev. Thomas Higgins, S.J., as moderators.

The Robert Bellarmine Debating Society is one designed to train those interested in the arts of public speaking and rhetoric. Representatives participate in inter-collegiate debates both on the campus and in other cities throughout the country. The society is under the direction of James A. Perrott, professor of English and speech.

The Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society will hold the annual "Loyola Night" variety show in October. Plans for the remaining year include Command Decision in December, St. Joan in the Lenten season, and an as-yet unnamed play in May. The faculty moderator is the Rev. Leo G. Monaghan, S.J., and Gerald Uhlhorn is president.

Three publications are written and published by and for the students. The Evergreen annual is compiled by the Senior class and distributed in May. It will be edited this year by Eugene Conroy, and Fr. d'Inville is the faculty supervisor. The Evergreen Quarterly is the literary magazine of Loyola, containing short stories, poetry, articles on varied topics and interviews. At present all staff positions are open and contributions are being accepted. Fr. d'Inville is the new moderator. THE GREYHOUND, campus newspaper, is a bi-weekly publication. The Rev. John J. Scanlan, S.J., is the moderator and Eugene P. Corrigan, Jr., is editor-in-chief.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Felice Iula, assistant professor of music, offers opportunity to anyone having vocal talent. Tenors, basses and baritones will practice on successive days. The full chorus will be merged later and full scale rehearsals will be started. Mr. Iula also expects to organize a campus orchestra in the near future.

The Cosmopolitan Club is open to students attending Loyola who are from out of Baltimore city and county. Its purpose is to aid those resident students, represent them to the administration and provide them with an organized social program. Eugene P. Corrigan, Jr., is president.

Other clubs which engage in intensive studies of their fields of activity include the Classics Academy moderated by Dr. P. Edward Katenbach; the Chemistry Club, under the Rev. Edward S. Hauber, S.J.; Accounting and Commerce Academy, whose moderator is Francis J. Sullivan; the History Academy directed by Dr. William D. Hoyt; the International Relations Club, Dr. Harry W. Kirwin, moderator; the Mendel Club (biology), under the Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S.J.; the Mathematics Club, Walter S. Dawkins, moderator; the Angelo Secchi Academy (physics), which the Rev. John P. Delaney, S.J., directs, and the Social Science Club, of which J. E. Frederick is president.

All students are automatically members of the Athletic Association, which provides support for Loyola's varsity and intramural sport program, and whose president is now Edward H. Miller. Major letter-winners become members of the Block-L Club, a social and booster group. Full programs of varsity, freshman and intramural athletics are available to all students, who are encouraged to participate in one or more.

Representatives are appointed by the Student Council to speak for the student body in the National Federation of Catholic College Students (NFCCS) and the National Students Association (NSA). The Loyola chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu (ASN), national Jesuit honorary fraternity, is composed of upper-classmen who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, service and loyalty to their college. Those outstanding in the field of public speaking are eligible for selection to Tau Kappa Alpha (TKA), national forensic fraternity.

The activities of all these groups and the representation of the student body to the administration is governed by the Student Council, which has been termed the "best in the East." President this year is Francis X. Trainor, Jesuit moderator is the Rev. Joseph K. Drane, S.J., and Lay moderator is James A. Perrott. The president of the Council and the Athletic Association are elected by the student body annually.

• Farewell and Welcome

One of the symptoms of college life is the annual melancholy over the absence of some we have come to know and admire. This feeling is intensified this year by the absence of our former president and dean, both of whom will be truly missed as friends and advisors. The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., directed Loyola's course during its peak years for enrollment, accomplishment and prestige. He took up the financial reins from the Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., (who had led the raising of most of the funds needed for the Memorial Chapel), and saw the construction nearly completed at his transfer. Loyola's efforts to afford Maryland with a first rank Catholic college were intensified during the tenures of Fr. Talbot and the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S. J., to include students from most of the Atlantic states. Under Fr. Sullivan, the scholastic average here reached its present high point, and was maintained at that level, despite the drawback of large classes and crowded conditions.

Fr. Talbot and Fr. Sullivan need not, we hope, be assured of our continued appreciation. And there is the consolation that even as we bid them goodbye, we are able to welcome and come to know their successors. May the Very Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S. J., and the Rev. Joseph K. Drane, S. J., find their introduction to Loyola as pleasant as we hope to make it for them.

• Missing Faces

There is a deeper sorrow to be felt in the death of a former classmate. Joseph Foley was killed in an automobile accident the night of the Senior Prom. Our sense of loss was lightened only by the news of the survival of his brother, Charles, and two friends, all of whom were in the car enroute home.

Other faces are missing as we return to studies. This is a year which recalls those of our high school days, as many fellows are no longer with us in civilian life. They are followed by our prayers and thoughts as they join the armed forces in this uneasy world hour. One alumnus is now reported missing in action in Korea. The urgent prayers of our campus community are among those said daily for his safe return.

Another group of familiar faces is absent for less urgent reasons. Four teachers have left to work toward doctorates or do other graduate study, and one has been called into service. They, who have led us through the pathways of languages and science and mathematics, have our wishes for success in their fields and the hope that some day soon will find them back with the Evergreen faculty.

• Why Join Activities?

The usual answer is "to round out your education," "to broaden your interests," to gain craftsmanship in your chosen field," "to support your school's communal projects."

That it's a lot of work is true. That it's a lot of fun, and an integral part of your education is also true. Participate in activities now, you'll be glad you did later.

Rome Tour

Loyola Students Enjoy Summer Pilgrimage

by Daniel Mackey

Fifteen students and alumni of Loyola College made a Holy Year trip to Europe this summer under the guidance of the Rev. Vincent F. Beatty, S. J. The tour, which included recreational as well as devotional points of interest in France and Italy, began with the departure of the U. S. S. Gloria from Hoboken, New Jersey, on July 30 and ended with the return of the group to the same port aboard the Italian liner Roma.

Passage across on the Gloria took 12 days, terminating at Cherbourg, France, where the group spent a few hours awaiting the train to Paris.

In Paris, visits were made to Notre Dame Cathedral, where most of the students were surprised and slightly disappointed at its size, (smaller than St. Patrick's Cathedral of New York) and the evidences of its antiquity. Robert Baumiller, '53, served Mass at a side altar of the great Cathedral.

The Eiffel Tower; the obelisk of the Place de la Concorde; the Hotel d'Invalides, where Napoleon's remains rest; the Arche de Triumphe on the Boulevard Champs Elysees; the Place de l'Opera and the Opera House, where some of the members witnessed a performance of the opera Bolivar, were major items on their itinerary. But all of the visitors agreed however, that the finest place of cultural interest in the while city was the Louvre, in which the Venus de Milo, the Winged Victory and portrait of Mona Lisa by Leonardo da Vinci held their attraction.

Loyola students who took the tour included John Shean, Charles Goldberg, Harvey Brooks, Neil Bathon, John MacSherry, Charles Evans, Robert Baumiller, Marion Restivo, Fred Buchness, Walter Mohler, Benjamin Frederics, Howard Bathon, '44, Robert Bucial and Martin Barry, Jr., '50.

Frederick Rescues Mate During Reserve Cruise

Joseph E. Frederick, of the senior class, made his mark early while with the naval reserve this summer. He rescued an unconscious crewman who had fallen overboard near the submarine to which Frederick was assigned.

The incident occurred within hours after the Loyola swimmer and summertime lifeguard had reported for duty at pier-side in Norfolk, Va. The man he saved, C. W. Holland, was quartermaster on a near-by destroyer.

Loyola Sodalists Take C.A. Course

With an enrollment of approximately 1,800 students, the New York division of the Summer School of Catholic Action opened at Fordham University August 21.

Loyola's representatives to the school were Eugene Conroy and Francis Hubbard of the Senior Sodality and Louis Reinhardt of the Junior Sodality.

Director for the twentieth annual summer school was the Rev. Thomas S. Bowdern, S. J. It is held under the auspices of the Sodality of Our Lady and the Queen's Work.

As in the past all classes were conducted by members of the Society of Jesus. Representatives of Catholic colleges and high schools, nursing schools and parish sodalities formed the vast majority of the student body. Students attended from points between Maine and Florida and as far west as Ohio.

Besides the 49 different courses offered to the Sodalists, there were a number of informal discussion periods.

Catholic Colleges Form Eleven Team Conference

Making a reality out of a dream that has been discussed for several years, the Eastern Catholic Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference was formed in June of this year by eleven colleges, including Loyola.

Four of the eleven member colleges in the new conference are located in New York State. They are LeMoyne of Syracuse, Iona of New Rochelle, Siena of Loudonville and St. Francis of Brooklyn. Pennsylvania ranks second with three: Kings College of Wilkes-Barre, St. Francis of Loretto and Scranton University.

Loyola To Meet Four

New Jersey has two in Seton Hall of South Orange and St. Peter's of Jersey City. The other two members are Providence College of Rhode Island and Loyola of the East in Baltimore, Maryland.

Loyola will be ineligible this year for the conference championship in basketball since they do not play the required five teams. The Greyhounds face only four of their conference opponents in Siena, Seton Hall, St. Peter's and St. Francis of Brooklyn.

ECIAC Board Formed

At the first meeting of the E-C-I-A-C in June, the Board of Governors was elected. The Rev. James A. Carey of Seton Hall was named chairman. The Rev. A. B. Begley, O.P., of Providence College and the Rev. Augustine Grady, S. J., of St. Peter's College were also appointed to office. William J. McGuire, Jr., Director of Athletics at St. Francis College in Brooklyn, New York, was nominated Secretary-Treasurer.

The first athletic event to be sponsored by the new Catholic league will be the first annual Varsity and Freshman Cross-Country Championship. This meet will be held on Saturday, November 25 at Van Cortlandt Park in New York City, the scene of all the big hill and dale meetings in the East.

League Hopes To Expand

Besides the sports events mentioned above, the new loop will also carry several other athletic events

Yanks, Irish, Browns Seem Champions All: Jove Junior

Jove Junior, the College's outstanding prognosticator, is due to make his initial appearance in the next issue of this paper. Taking over where his predecessor has left off, Jove Junior will bring to the readers of this publication the latest prophecies in the world of sports.

As the men he succeeds have done, Jove will try to out-guess the campus' football experts. According to many in the know, Jove Junior is supposed to be cut from the same mold as the late Jove Senior. The junior edition of Jove Incorporated has been warming up his prognosticating brain by picking the following winners.

According to Jove, the New York Yanks should win the World Series four games to one. In the pro-football world Jove likes the Cleveland Browns as world champs. As for the nation's leading collegiate football team, Jove gives Notre Dame the nod over the rest of the field.

Another feature article to appear regularly in forthcoming issues of this bi-monthly paper will be "The Lineup," a column bringing to you the campus' top athletes, the team captains and the coaches of the various varsity teams.

and championships in its first year of organization. The conference hopes to add to its sports agenda in future years and to build the league into one of the top conferences of the country.

For Loyola this marks the second conference in which it holds a charter membership. The Greyhounds are also one of the original members of the now smoothly functioning Mason-Dixon wheel.

Loyola Shares In Glory

Although the colleges composing this new league are considered as small colleges, small in student enrollment, they have more than made up for their size in athletic events of the past years. Seton Hall, a perennial basketball power of the east has turned out such great players as Pep Saul of the Rochester Royals and Big Ed Sadowski of the Baltimore Bullets. St. Francis of Brooklyn has for a number of years been one of the top teams in the New York Metropolitan area.

The Greyhounds of Loyola have also had their share of glory when in competition with the so-called larger colleges of the Eastern Seaboard. They have taken many of them over the hurdles whether on the basketball or tennis court, on the lacrosse or soccer field, or on the diamond.

Harriers Open In Chestertown

Seeking to gain revenge for last year's trouncing at the hands of the Sho'men of Washington College, the Greyhound cross country team will travel to Chestertown, Maryland next weekend for the opening of the 1950 season.

Coach Bill McElroy, faced with the problem of rebuilding a squad riddled by graduation, is counting on lettermen Captain George Kimmerlein, Joe Paszek, Bob Robinson and Mike Callanan to carry the burden of the team scoring.

Freshmen Give Balance

Freshmen prospects giving the squad needed balance as well as promise for the coming season are Ed Colburne, Mel Townsend and Charles Laupp. Bill Manger, Mike Ford and Bob Houghworth round out the squad. The latter-named ran the 440 for last year's track team.

Hopkins Visits Evergreen

Following a two week layoff, the Greyhounds will be entertained by Gallaudet College of Washington, D. C. Three days later, the Green and Grey will journey to Philadelphia to meet Saint Joseph's College.

On November 8, the harriers of Johns Hopkins University will visit Evergreen, and five days later Mount Saint Mary's will be the Hound's guest. This year's Mason-Dixon tournament, which will have 13 enteries, will take place at Gallaudet College on November 18.

Hounds Prep For Opener In Soccer

by Joe Steffins

With the opening of the school year on September 25, the Loyola soccer team held its initial practice session for the 1950 season.

Although having suffered heavy losses through graduation, the Green and Grey booters will boast a veteran starting alignment. Bill McGee will succeed Johnny Gants as net-tender of the squad. McGee, even though he lacks experience, has shown considerable promise during practice.

Franz Returns

The pitchers received an unexpected jolt when it was learned that Ben Bremer, a standout fullback on last season's aggregation, would not return to school this year. George Franz, who held the other starting fullback post, however, will be back for another year of action.

Attempting to fill the position left vacant by Bremer's departure will be newcomers Lou Hofferbert, Al Santoni, Ted Swentkoski and Bill Kalandros. Hofferbert is a graduate of Loyola High, a school which does not list soccer on its sports agenda. Nevertheless, the hefty freshman, who has had some experience in sandlot ball, has shown ample reason to be tagged as one of the chief contenders for the vacant spot.

Other Lettermen Return

The graduation of John Kerr has created an opening among the halfbacks. Coach Bish Baker's worries will be somewhat relieved, though, with the return of such lettermen as Bernie Stang, Joe Nelson, Ken Moore and Jack Hooper.

All of these men saw considerable action in last year's campaign and should be ready to supply the Hounds with some strength at this position.

Outer Line Poses Problem

Jim Bullington, captain of the squad, and Armando Luzzi will return to their positions on the inside line. The outside line and the center-forward spot loom as the big headaches in Baker's plans of fielding a winning combination. He will have to rely on Jerry Muth and Frank Kowalczyk to alleviate the situation.

Last season the Hounds finished in third place in the Mason-Dixon Conference and posted a season log of five wins and four defeats. The previous year the booters managed to capture the M-D bunting, but were forced to hand over the flag to Baltimore University after last year's campaign.

The schedule:

Oct. 10	Western Maryland	A*
16	Towson Teachers	H*
24	Washington Coll.	A*
28	American U.	A*
31	Maryland U.	H
Nov. 3	Hopkins	H*
8	Baltimore U.	A*
11	Seton Hall	H
* Denotes Mason-Dixon Games.

Athletic Machines In Repair As Season Openers Draw Near

by Gene Conroy

Having rolled up their sleeves, the Greyhound soccer and cross-country squads are settling down to the task of fulfilling their respective fall schedules. The pitchers have been holding practice sessions for the past three weeks, while the harriers have but two weeks of practice behind them. Unlike the cross-country team, which must face a rebuilding process, the soccer men will field a starting lineup composed mostly of veteran booters. Led by George Kimmerlein, who has the unique honor of being chosen captain of both the cross-country and track squads while only a Junior in college, the harriers face a strong slate, meeting such top Mason-Dixon Conference teams as Washington College and such highly-rated non-conference clubs as the University of Maryland.

The Hound's soccer team will be led into the athletic wars by Captain Jimmy Bullington, one of the most important cogs in Coach Bish Baker's soccer machine. Jimmy is the brother of Hank, a former Loyola standout on the pitch.

During the past summer, Mike Zedalis, captain of last year's varsity basketball squad, and Jerry Chadwick, an outstanding member of the freshmen quintet, donned khaki uniforms as they were recalled to service by the Army.

Besides the men mentioned above as captains of the soccer and cross-country teams, the following will lead the various Loyola teams into action during the '50-'51 athletic campaign: Eddie Miller and Andy McCormick are to co-captain the swimmers; Vince Gallagher and Herb Meinert will perform in the same capacity for the basketball squad; Frank Kimmel will head the lacrosse team; Bob Weiss has been chosen captain of the wrestlers; the tennis players will have Tom McDermott as captain; and Jim Pelisek is to lead the golfers in their matches. Bill Tucker, selected to captain the baseball squad, has left school and entered the University of Richmond.

It has been announced in Dayton, Ohio, that Bob Anderson, star ceter on the Greyhound's court teams of the past two years, has been signed to play for the Frigidaire team of the A. A. U. Basketball League. Another former Loyolan has also been signed to a contract. He is Andy O'Donnell. Andy, who performed for the Hounds from '46 till '49, and who during the latter half of last year's basketball season played with the Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association, has signed up with the professional Wilkes-Barre team.

A. A. Mum About Commissioner's Office

Although the athletic season is about to get under way, Loyola's Athletic Association Office has not as yet named a successor to the office of Commissioner of Intramural Athletics.

The Commissioner's position has been vacant since the graduation of James "Killer" Kane. There are several rumors as to who will be appointed to this coveted office, but as yet the A. A. office has kept mum concerning any action on the matter.

As soon as any announcement is made as to the new overlord of intramural sports, you can rest assured that this publication will bring the news to you.

Athletic Director Emil Reitz offered the following facts, however. This year's intramural activities will be run on a basis similar to last season's. Football of the touch variety will start the year off. Basketball will be forthcoming in the winter, and tennis, golf, horseshoes, pingpong and whatever other events the students desire and support will be set up for the spring.
